It was resolved by unanimous vote to leave the management of the highways in the hands of the selectmen. It was voted to levy a tax of sixteen mills on the grand list for the present year.

Action was next taken on the bequest of Mary E. Crandail, late of Cuba, N. Y., of the sum of $1,000 to the town for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a public library in Palmertown, on condition that the town furnish at least an equal sum for the same purpose. After some discussion, it was decided to let the matter stand over for a while, and a committee of three, consisting of John E. Brown, George H. Bradford and Silas H. Browning, was appointed to look into the matter and report to the next annual business meeting.

OPENING MEET OF SEASON

Met at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Allen-Subject Was Holland. After a preliminary pienie two weeks go at Niantic, the Round Table held its first meeting of the season Tuesday evening, meeting with Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Allen of Williams street. In the abesine of President
N. L. Bishop because of illness, Rev.
W. T. Thayer, chairman of the programme committee, presided.

The attendance was large and an ineresting feature at the opening was the rollcall, which quite appropriately called for "Pleasant Memories of My Summer Vacation." The instructive and entertaining programme com-prised the following papers: History of Holland at the Period of William XII., O. E. Ryther; Artist Strolls in Holland, Miss Annie E. Waters; Dykes mnd Windmills in Dutch Landscapes, Miss Jennie E. Spencer. The music for the evening was by Mrs. O. E.

Ryther at the piano, and a vocal solo by Mrs. W. T. Thayer, both adding much to the enjoyable programme. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting is to be at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Fanning in Ledyard.

PASTOR READ LETTERS. Had Asked Opinions as to Non-At tendance at Church.

"Why is not the church more pop-ular with the masses?" was the sup-ject of a discourse by the Rev. George M. Brown of the First Methodist M. Brown of the First Methodis church, Bridgeport, Sunday evening The pastor did not attempt to reply or supply the answer. Instead he read a number of replies of busy men of the town, the layman, whose replies were as varied as their or were as varied as their occupations, and perhaps they look at the church from different views. In prefacing his discourse, the Rev. Mr. Brown said that he was constantly inquiring what the people thought of the work of the pastor and the church, because he always found in the answers a stimu-lant. That was the reason that be asked a number of questions, and from the fact that no games were to mentioned, it gave those who did reply an opportunity to express their thoughts with the fullest frankness. The first letter that the pastor read was from a business man, who said in his letter that the church is not the educational force today that it was in the past. The schools, the magazines and the newspapers take the place of the pulpit, even in questions of church government and policy. of church government and policy. The ministry in most cases have not kept up with the times. This was an age of the specialist. The minister should be a specialist to his calling. The people seek just plain Biblical truths and not religious lectures. The letter went on to state that the average man resents sentimentalism in the nulpit.

The writer said that sometimes the preschers resort to the telling of a pathetic story to excite the sentiment of his hearers to express a point which is not relished because it is a trick to win sympathy.—Bridgeport
